

Food Scientist Internship (f/m/d)

Praktikum/Werkstudium, Teilzeit · München

DO YOU WANT TO MAKE A DELICIOUS DIFFERENCE?

As a fast-growing, mission-driven startup committed to revolutionise the food industry, we're assembling a dynamic A-Team! As our Food Scientist Intern, you'll contribute to enhancing our ChoViva flavour optimisation and assist with ingredient preparation and prototype development.

- Reporting to: Anna-Lena Krug
- Type: Full-Time, Mandatory Internship
- Location: Planegg (Onsite)
- Department: R&D

ABOUT PLANET A FOODS

We couldn't ignore the problem. The chocolate industry has long contributed to environmental harm and human exploitation. We are unwilling to stand by this, as we believe in protecting our planet and the people that create the foods we love... So we created the world's first 100% cocoa-free chocolate alternative, ChoViva, which delivers a rich, roasted flavour with a solid snap, smooth melt, and subtle sweetness - all while being climate-friendly!

At Planet A Foods, we are on a mission to create dramatically more sustainable food ingredients, and thus save millions of tons of CO2 emissions each year. And cocoa is just the beginning...

A TASTE OF WHAT TO EXPECT

- Assist the team in flavour optimisation and perform experiments along our ChoViva process, including food science related measurements with eg. GC-MS, Texture Analyser, Rheometer etc.
- Preparation of raw ingredients and production of our ChoViva
- Filing on new recipes and producing prototypes for clients
- Further operational tasks, eg. packing and shipping

THE PERFECT RECIPE OF SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

- You are enrolled in Food Science, Food Technology, Nutrition or similar courses (B.Sc. or M.Sc.) and must complete a mandatory internship.
- You are a positive person with a passion for sustainable food and working hand in hand with other ambitious people on something meaningful.
- You are enthusiastic about food science and product development and willing to learn food science related analytical methods
- You are self-disciplined, hands-on, pro-active and ready to take ownership.
- You are in Munich or willing to relocate to Munich.
